

DIPLOMACY

*My wife ruined the toast
The egg was like a brick
The bacon was very greasy
And almost made me sick*

*I love my wife very much
And I'm such a yellow lad
I smiled, and said, "This breakfast
Is the finest I've ever had*

TEARS

*Tears keep coming all the time
When things are very sad
They even fall upon the cheek
When the heart is gay and glad*

*Those tiny tears keep falling
But tears make you feel
As if something sincere is left in life
And I like them... because they're real*

EVENING

*I love the evening solitude
I hear the crickets cry
I watch the daylight fading
From a colorful, rosy sky*

*I sit in utter rapture
When one more day is done
And dream of sweet tomorrows
With every setting sun*

HOME GROWN

*English girls have the eyes
Spanish girls have the hips
French girls have lovely hair
And Irish girls the lips*

*Now fellows, I'm not bragging
When I proudly say
That my girl shines in all these things
And she's from the U.S.A.*
